

Support tubes 42mm

STR 42 Support tube

Characteristics
Support Ø 42mm made of Inox A2 for the modular assembly M16 of anchorage point and cable systems on base plate and steel beams

| Article-Nr. | E-Number |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|-------------|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|--|--|--|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 310.800.001 |          | InoxA2                                                                            | 800                                                                               | 42                                                                                | 4                                                                                 |  |  |  |  | 1                                                                                   |

Technical Specifications: Support tube STR 42

|                             |             |
|-----------------------------|-------------|
| Article No.                 | 310.800.001 |
| Material                    | InoxA2      |
| External diameter           | 42 mm       |
| Thread size anchorage point | M16         |
| Thread size basement        | M16         |
| Number of person            | 4           |
| Height H                    | 800 mm      |
| Commercial specification    |             |
| Customs number              | 73089000    |
| country of origin           | CH          |

